

You're OK

I had a dream you came to life
And rose from where you lay
And in that dream you came to me
To say that you're OK
You had the look of perfect health
A sign for me to see
That you're alive and doing well
Within God's company

It seemed so very natural
To see your rosy cheeks
As though you never really died
But only fell asleep
I know you couldn't stay too long
But thank you anyway
For passing by to say hello
To say that you're OK
