

I Could Be In Love

Who was I to think I had a chance
A chance to share in all you do
Who was I to think that dreams are real
And think that what I feel is true
Who was I to let myself believe
That I could be in love with you

I thought love was like heaven
But now I believe that it's like hell
How could I have misread you
When I thought that I knew you so well

I was such a fool to think you'd leave her
Always felt that you'd be mine one day
Though you never lied I was blinded by my pride
Convinced that
I could win your heart away

Who was I to think I had a chance
A chance to share in all you do
Who was I to think that dreams are real
And think that what I feel is true
Who was I to let myself believe
That I could be in love with you
Yes I could be in love
I could be in love
Yes I could be in love with you.

Words and Music by

Bernard Leclerc

© 1999

(updated November 17, 2006)